Dear Parents / Carers,

The autumn term is flying by at Barnwood Park, but there is still lots to do between now and Christmas. A key part of our plans for this year was delivered in assemblies this week by Mr Lewis - our Legacy Colours. With that in mind, I will hand over the rest of this week's newsletter to Mr Lewis, who will fill you all in on what the colours are, and what's next:

As part of our Student Experience programme we are offering an initiative called the 'Legacy Colours'. The purpose of this is to not only help and encourage our young people to continue to strive to be excellent academically, but also to recognise the importance of the wider cultural capital that will help them to contribute to the conversations that shape who we are as strong, independent, and thoughtful human beings.

It is a whole school rewards programme that is underpinned by our four values 'Respect, Ambition, Determination, Success' and is designed to reward students for their extra-curricular efforts that exist outside of our everyday curriculum. Students can receive 'half colours' and eventually 'full colour' badges that are linked to our four values by completing a wide range of activities such as: fundraising, visiting theatres/art galleries/exhibitions, reading 50 library books, achieving 100 house points, representing your house in an event.

Alongside our House Point system, the 'Legacy Colours' provides another opportunity for our school to celebrate and reward the wonderful choices that our young people make every day.
